Emergency Flasher & Campsite Illumination

If you've ever had to leave your 5th wheel or travel trailer on the side of the road because of a mechanical breakdown, you know that your trailer has no emergency flashers once the tow vehicle has been disconnected. Without emergency flashers to warn oncoming traffic, your trailer is an accident waiting to happen. The situation gets even worse at night when your trailer may not be seen until it's too late.

With the flashCube, you can have emergency flashers on your 5th wheel or travel trailer even when your tow vehicle is disconnected. The flashCube will insure that your trailer will be easily seen by other motorists while you are away seeking help.

The flashCube also provides campsite illumination by operating your trailer's running lights while you are camping. Your trailers running lights will softly illuminate your campsite. No more stumbling around in the dark. No more banged knees or banged heads while walking around your trailer in the dark.

Instructions

To use your flashCube, simply plug your 5th wheel or travel trailer's 7-pin umbilical cord connector into the socket on top of the flashCube.

Be certain to insert the trailer plug into the flashCube socket far enough that the plug is engaged by the lock tab on the socket's spring loaded cover. Then turn ON the Emergency Flasher switch or the Running Lights switch or both.

Place the flashCube in a sheltered area away from the weather, either suspended by the trailer's umbilical cord under the overhang of your 5th wheel trailer or under the chassis of your travel trailer.

To replace the flashCube's internal fuse, remove the four screws that attach the bottom cover and replace the fuse with a standard automotive ATC 15Amp fuse.
